

WILLIAM M. FISHBACK.

The Democratic Candidate for Governor of Arkansas.

Hon. William Meade Fishback, whom the Democrats of Arkansas have named for next governor of that state, is giving illustration of the sudden and tremendous changes in southern politics. He was born Nov. 5, 1831, in Culpepper county, Va., his mother's people being English and his father's German. He was educated at the University of Virginia, read law in Richmond and located in Arkansas in 1858.

His advent there was at the beginning of that fierce struggle which ended in civil war, and he was an uncompromising Union man from the first. As such he was elected to the convention of 1861, such he remained through the war and was elected to the United States senate in 1864. But when the reconstruction measures were in progress he opposed them and has since been an active Democrat.

After serving in the legislature and constitutional convention of 1874, besides other public services, he is now a candidate for governor as an avowed "original Union man." Most of the old Confederate soldiers supported him, and 428 of the 529 votes of the convention were instructed for him.

Ecuador's Exposition.

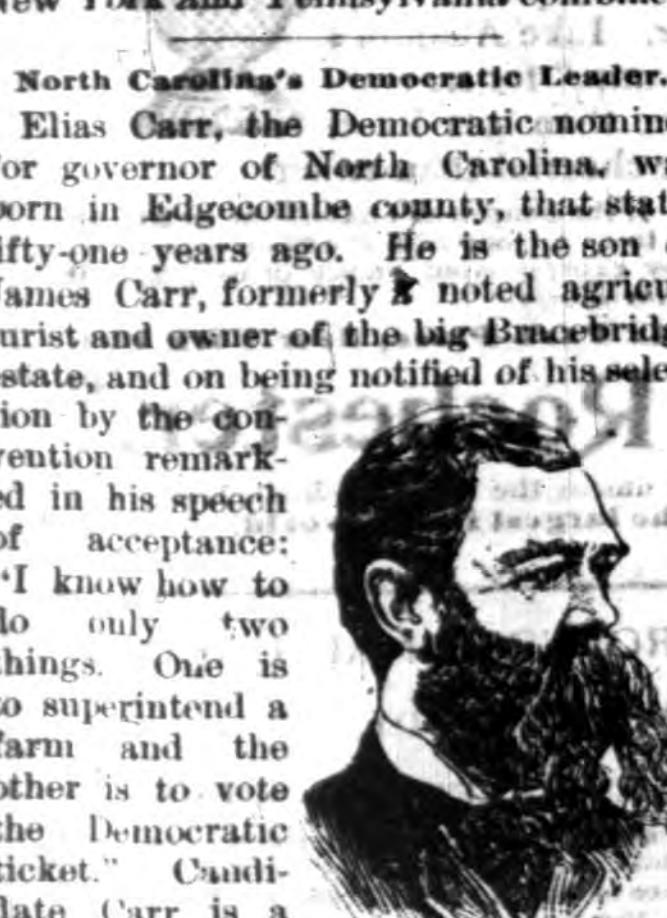

On the first of June an exposition was opened at Quito, the capital of the republic of Ecuador, for the purpose of showing articles collected for the Chicago fair and also to give an opportunity to foreign manufacturers and merchants to display their wares. The first suggestion of this came from Mr. Tisdell, the special commissioner of the Columbian exposition, and it was hoped that the industries of the United States would be well represented. The Latin American department is now informed that it is a matter of considerable surprise and comment on the west coast that not one American house is represented at the Quito fair, while Germany and England have sent many small wares and some portable agricultural machinery. This fair was duly advertised and the statement made that American manufacturers would be admitted free of duty and transported to Quito from the seaport of Guayaquil at the expense of the government. Kerosene and shelf hardware constitute the principal productions of the United States on sale, with now and then a cargo of California flour. The lack of response to the cordial invitation given to the merchants and manufacturers of the United States by the Ecuadorian government is a great disappointment.

The Guatemala Building.

The exposition commission of the republic of Guatemala has arranged for a contest at which architects may submit plans for the building of that country to be erected on the grounds at Chicago. The architects must be residents of Guatemala, and the building must be of a character to be easily transported to that country and re-erected at its capital after the close of the exposition. It is not to cost more than $20,000, and the space of two acres has been reserved for it. A building is desired which shall be typical of the country, and prizes of $100 are provided for. The competitive designs will be opened on July 4 next.

The Largest Gardens.

It may be only the reverberance of the exuberant imagination of a sensational correspondent, but one of the guild, in the course of a very interesting letter, says that there is an immense garden in China that embraces an area of 50,000 square miles. It is all meadow land and is filled with lakes, ponds and canals. Altogether it is as large as the states of New York and Pennsylvania combined.

Elias Carr, Democratic Leader of North Carolina.

Any of the earlier stages of Consumption can be cured. It's a matter of evidence strong enough and complete enough to warrant the makers of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

If it's taken in time and given a fair trial, they'll refund the money in any case where their medicine fails to benefit or cure.

But it's a medicine that doesn't fail; it goes to the root of the trouble. Consumption is developed through the blood, and must be cured in the same way, with a scrofulous affection of the lungs—a blood taint. And the surest remedy for Consumption in all its forms, the most potent blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder known to medical science, is the "Golden Medical Discovery." It cures Scrofulosis in cases of Consumption; it cures all Bronchitis, Throat, and Lung affections; Asthma, Weak Lungs, Severe Coughing, and kindred ailments through the blood.

And if there's no help, there's no pay.
